Joblink Plus shows event support

A substantial contribution toward The Western Spectacular – the distant beat has been made by the Joblink Plus Community Donations programme.

Funds will help stage the entertainment extravaganza at Dubbo Showgrounds on May 5 and 6 that will involve more than 1000 elite performance students from western NSW public schools.

Celebrating rural and regional life through song and dance, The Western Spectacular – the distant beat brings together the talented students from as many as 70 public schools for more than two hours in singing, dancing, music and circus routines.

Joblink Plus Chief Executive Officer, Chris Sheppeard said the organisation's board, management and staff were proud to support The Western Spectacular – the distant beat.

The Joblink Plus Community Donations programme distributes funds to communities in western NSW.

As a not-for-profit community-based organisation, Joblink Plus provides employment services, support and training to the community, in particular, to those in greatest need.

The Western Spectacular – the distant beat shows are 7pm on May 5 and 1pm and 7pm on May 6. Tickets are $32 adults, $18 Concession and children, and can be purchased by phone sales on 02 68821191 or directly from Snares Talbragar St Newsagency, Dubbo.
